

Dates: 1 – 3 December 2016

Country: Jordan, Amman

The Arab Reporters for Investigative Journalism (ARIJ) celebrated its 10th anniversary gathering participants from nine countries in the capital of Jordan, Amman. More than 300 Arab and international investigative editors, journalists, trainers, academics and media students attended the ARIJ Annual Network Forum held under the theme “ARIJ: a Decade of Investigating the Arab world: Seeing, Hearing, Exposing”.

The Media Diversity Institute (MDI) representative Mourad Sellami also attended the event in Jordan presenting the Dune Voices multimedia platform that brings stories from marginalised communities from the Sahara region. Sellami met with ARIJ Executive Director Rana Sabbagh to discuss potential collaboration in countries such as Morocco, Algeria, Mauritania and Sudan.
