

<http://www.yforum.com/content/default.aspx?pg=intro.html>

Keywords: International, North America, English, diversity in general, other web resources, question/answer, online, freedom of expression & diversity, community/minority media

Y?, the first and only site of its kind, gives you a way to ask people from other ethnic or cultural backgrounds the questions you've always been too embarrassed or uncomfortable to ask them. If you have the courage to ask, Y? will evaluate your question, consider it for posting and try to get someone from that background to answer.

If needed, we'll get an expert to weigh in. You can also find questions for which we're seeking replies to run in the "Dare to Ask" syndicated column .