

Keywords: children, youth, IDPs, migrants, asylum seekers, suicide, mental health, English, ethics, human rights, public relations, print, radio, visual, PR, community/minority media, English, French, all organizations, all regions

A journalist, author, university professor and trainer, with over 35 years experience in print, broadcasting and public relations. Mike Jempson has been Director of The MediaWise Trust since 1996. He co-founded the journalism ethics charity (then known as PressWise) with 'survivors of media abuse' in 1993.

Mike provides the public voice of MediaWise, advises individuals and organisations with complaints about the media, and runs training programmes and media literacy projects in the UK and internationally. He specializes in ethical coverage of children, youth, IDPs, migrants and asylum seekers.

Mike Jempson's CV